MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

This fiscal year, which began May 1, 2013 and ended April 30, 2014, saw exceptional achievements as Osgoode continued to advance its mission and strategic objectives. The Law School ended the year with a significant surplus, enabling investment in areas related to accessibility, experiential education, research intensification and digital education, as well as the building up of our contingency fund.

As you'll read in this Annual Report, our capacity to use the power of digital creatively and effectively was uppermost in our minds as we launched the Osgoode Digital Initiative in 2013-14 to determine how we can enrich and better coordinate the multiple digital initiatives currently underway at the Law School.

The Law Library's single largest project as part of the Digital Initiative was the creation of the Osgoode Digital Commons, an open-access institutional repository of the School's intellectual output. The Digital Commons will better preserve, organize and disseminate research – from research articles published by Osgoode faculty to guest lectures, conference proceedings, theses, videos and photo galleries. Although the “official” launch of the Digital Commons took place on October 1, 2014, as part of our 125th anniversary celebrations, at that time there had already been over 200,000 downloads of the more than 2,500 documents uploaded to date to the repository, including the complete archives of both the Osgoode Hall Law Journal and the Journal of Law and Social Policy.

The MyJD digital record-keeping and degree audit tool for students introduced by the Office of Admissions & Student Services and Osgoode Professional Development's (OPD) adoption of improved videoconferencing technology for distance learning were two more examples in 2013-14 of how the Law School continued to move boldly forward in a digital universe that is affecting every aspect of the Law School.

There were many more instances throughout the year where the Law School demonstrated leadership in legal education.

One of the most compelling illustrations of our aspiration to lead the way occurred in the summer of 2013 when Osgoode – on behalf of the province's seven law schools – submitted a successful funding proposal to the Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities for the development of an engaging new website that will provide support for Ontario law students dealing with stress, anxiety, and other wellness and mental health concerns. Osgoode Student Success and Wellness Counsellor Melanie Banka Goela is the driving force behind the JustBalance website (www.justbalance.ca), launching in September 2014.

In addition, the Law School was delighted to see OPD awarded $572,431 by the Ontario Ministry of Citizenship and Immigration in February 2014 to develop a fully on-line program to prepare Ontario newcomers to write the National Committee on Accreditation (NCA) Challenge Examinations.

In the 2013-14 fiscal year, the Law School proudly marked the 20th anniversary of the Intensive Program in Aboriginal Lands, Resources & Government; the formal launch of the Winkler Institute for Dispute Resolution; and the establishment of new collaborative exchange agreements with Tsinghua University School of Law and the School of Law at Queen Mary University of London.

The year also saw our amazing students helping to promote inclusivity, equity and accessibility at Osgoode. Members of the South Asian Law Students' Association (SALSA) led a fundraising campaign to recognize the contributions of The Honourable Justice Russell Jurianz '72. Thanks in large part to a generous donation from Blake Cassels & Graydon LLP, more than $50,000 was raised for The Honourable Russell Jurianz '72 Bursary Fund and the Blakes/Jurianz Inclusivity Fund.

I want to thank all of our students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends for making this another great year for the Law School. I know you join me in looking forward to building on our strengths and accomplishments in the 2014-15 academic year when we celebrate the 125th anniversary of the Law School's founding in 1889.

Lorne Sossin '92

Dean

Two new awards promoting inclusivity, equity and accessibility at Osgoode -- The Honourable Russell Juriansz '72 Bursary and the Blakes/Juriansz Inclusivity Fund -- were announced during Diversity Week in February 2014.

ADMISSIONS & STUDENT SERVICES (JD)

HIGHLIGHTS

- The Bursary Process Working Group was established in December 2013 to consider and recommend changes to the Osgoode bursary application, review and disbursement processes. The Working Group members were Professor Paul Emond (faculty representative), Alissa Cooper, Manager, Admissions & Financial Services (staff representative), Karina Pylypczuk (student representative) and Angela Yang (student researcher).
- With the development of the MyJD digital record-keeping and degree audit tool, students will be able to digitally self-audit their Osgoode JD degree requirements, including all aspects of the Osgoode Public Interest Requirement. Students will also submit and track the approval process for most Student Services forms and in-program applications. Student files will now be digital in the first instance and all documents will be tagged, retained and disposed of in accordance with York University's Common Records Schedule. This was a major ongoing project in 2013-14. MyJD is scheduled to launch in late summer 2014.
- In Summer 2013, Osgoode - on behalf of the Ontario law schools, submitted a successful funding proposal to the Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities as part of Ontario's comprehensive Mental Health and Addictions Strategy. The network of law school administrators, led by Osgoode's Student Success and Wellness Counsellor, Melanie Banka Goela, received just under $100,000 in funding to support a collaborative project that will provide mental health and wellness resources to Ontario's law students. The cornerstone of the project, the JustBalance website, is set to launch in fall 2014.
- Osgoode's Toronto On-Campus Interviews were, for the first time, held at the Bram & Bluma Appel Salon at the Metro Toronto Reference Library. Well located at Bloor & Yonge in downtown Toronto, this new space was well received by both employers and students alike.

STUDENT SUCCESS AND WELLNESS

The second year of operation for the Student Success and Wellness office continues to be a valuable service for the student body. Under the direction of Counsellor Melanie Banka Goela, the service continues to be in high demand as the number of contacts for the 2013-2014 academic year totalled 110 students with 90 of those students being first time users of the service.

The main presenting issues remain the same including anxiety, depression and relationship challenges/breakdown and the intersection between these and students' academic/educational experience.

No formal evaluations were conducted this year, however the service continually receives positive feedback and some students reported being referred to the office by a peer user of the service.

GRADUATE STUDIES PROGRAM IN LAW

HIGHLIGHTS

- Dr. Dayna Nadine Scott became Director of the Graduate Studies Program in July 2013.
- Enrolments continued to be stable and there is a demonstrated steady demand for the program. This year there were an increasing number of applications for the LLM degree from international students, but a limited number of funded spots available due to the governmentally mandated annual quotas. Demand for the PhD Program also remained strong and is showing modest growth. Domestic applications to the PhD Program at Osgoode are increasing in proportion to all domestic applications to graduate programs at York.
- Innovative initiatives to promote research and collaboration were instituted, including in-depth, hands-on workshops to assist students with grant applications, publishing and academic careers.
- Twenty students graduated from the program this year, having successfully completed their theses and dissertations, and many have gone on to teach at other law schools throughout the world.
- Students participated in the Atlas/Agora, a special offering by an international consortium of prestigious graduate schools in law, held in Australia. Many students gave papers at academic conferences around the world, including in England, India, Prague and the Netherlands. Participation was supported in part by more than $30,000 in Osgoode funding.
- The Annual Graduate Student Conference and the Toronto Group Conference were great successes, attracting students from many universities, involving faculty members on panels and as discussants, and giving students the opportunity to showcase their research.

OSGOODE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

HIGHLIGHTS

- Launched the LLM in Canadian Common Law in the fall of 2013
- Awarded $572,431 by the Ontario Ministry of Citizenship and Immigration to develop a fully on-line program to prepare Ontario newcomers to write the National Committee on Accreditation Challenge Examinations
- Implemented improved videoconferencing technology to allow greater number of LLM students the flexibility of distance learning
- Exceeded budgeted financial targets

PROFESSIONAL LLM

- Total Professional LLM enrollment was 310 students
- Significant growth in full-time (vs. part-time) LLM programs to address increasing demand from both domestic and international students
- Developed and obtained approval for launch of a full-time LLM in Tax in the fall of 2014
- 34 students from 15 different countries were enrolled in the LLM in International Business Law (Brazil, China, Colombia, India, Iran, Iraq, Mexico, Nigeria, Pakistan, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Slovakia, Switzerland, Uganda, and United States)

NON-CREDIT CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

- Approximately 3,600 attended open-enrollment non-degree programs
- Short programs included Mental Disorder & Criminal Justice; Fertility Law; Legal Issues in Student Discipline & Safety; Small Claims Practice and Procedure; and, Self-Defence and Use of Force: The New and Evolving Substantive Defences to Violent Conduct
- Newly launched non-degree Certificate programs included The Certificate in Essentials for Ombuds (a joint program with The Forum of Canadian Ombudsman) and The Osgoode Certificate in Human Rights Theory and Practice
- Repeating Certificates included The Osgoode Certificate in Construction Law, The Osgoode Certificate in Clinical Risk, Negligence and Claims Management in Health Care, and The Osgoode Certificate in Regulatory Compliance and Legal Risk Management for Financial Institutions
- Approximately 500 individuals participated in lunch-hour webinars. Webinar topics included a webinar on Effective Privacy and Information Management, as well as a series on Ethics and Professionalism Issues for Administrative Tribunals, done in partnership with the Society of Ontario Adjudicators and Regulators
- Custom and in-house programs were delivered to several organizations including the Office of the Provincial Advocate for Children and Youth (Ontario); the Department of Justice - Public Safety & Defence Division; the Department of Justice - Immigration Law Division; and, the Ontario Securities Commission
- New program partnerships included The Forum of Canadian Ombudsman and the University of Calgary, Faculty of Law

LIBRARY

This was another busy and productive year for the Osgoode Library - our third year in our new facilities. The library space continues to be a great success with students, as evidenced by a significant increase in gate-count, while a continuing decrease in the number of print book loans (down 12% this year) highlights the impact of digital technologies. Both trends illustrate the changing role of the law school library from print repository to social gathering space and an environment in which to engage with learning. The ongoing challenges of "print vs digital" and "preservation vs access" are reflected in the list of our accomplishments for the year.

LIBRARIAN NEWS

Three of our four law librarians returned from their sabbatical leaves, promoted to continuing appointments as Associate Librarians.

- Yemisi Dina, Head, Public Services, investigated methods of documenting customary court judgments in South Western Nigeria, focusing on property and inheritance rights, women's rights in marriage (especially in forced polygamous marriages) and children's rights. The project will show the ways in which culture, tradition and ethnicity is applied by this level of court
- Tim Knight, Head, Technical Services, investigated law library applications of linked data, including the application of the Resource Description Framework (RDF) and the potential role that Resource Description and Access (RDA) will play in enabling the interoperability of library bibliographic data with web-based information systems. Knight is co-recipient of a Canadian Association of Law Libraries research grant to explore the application of linked data to the KF Modified classification system.
- Sharon Wang, Reference Librarian, (who was away on both a sabbatical and maternity leave) continued her research into an extended bibliography of copyright law.

INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY: OSGOODE DIGITAL COMMONS

After completing design and setup stages, we started adding content to the Osgoode Digital Commons, the School's new institutional repository, (<http://digitalcommons.osgoode.yorku.ca/>) in January. The repository is built on the Digital Commons platform from Berkeley Electronic Press (bepress). While currently 25% of American law schools have built institutional repositories using the Digital Commons platform, Osgoode is the first law school in Canada to undertake such a project. This is the Library's single largest project and the centrepiece of the School's new Digital Initiative.

- To date, over 2,500 documents have been uploaded to the repository, including the complete archives of both the Osgoode Hall Law Journal (51 v) and the Journal of Law and Social Policy (23 v). Both journals are now also using the platform's open journal production and publishing module. The Journal of Law and Social Policy is already "digital only," and the Osgoode Hall Law Journal plans to abandon print publication and go digital-only in the near future.
- While the "official" launch of the Osgoode Digital Commons will not happen until October 1, 2014 (as part of Osgoode's upcoming 125th anniversary celebrations), this will always be a work in progress. We are especially thankful for the start-up grant of $25,000 over two years from the School's Research Intensification Fund to hire a student librarian to assist with the work.

LIBRARY OUTREACH - ART IN THE LIBRARY

- The Library hosted two art exhibits this past academic year. In the fall term (September-October 2013), we hosted Roma Rising/Opre Roma: Portraits of a Community (romarisingCA), a collection of photographs of members of the Canadian Roma (Gypsy) community. The photo portraits were created by Washington DC photographer Chad Evans Wyatt to challenge stereotypical views of the Roma community. The RomaRising project was launched in Hungary in 2001 and has now continued in Canada. The exhibit was sponsored by the Toronto Roma Community Centre.
- In the winter term (March 2014), the Osgoode South Asian Law Students' Association (SALSA) set up in the Osgoode Library an exhibition of photos and images documenting the Komagata Maru incident. The photos are from the Komagata Maru Collection of the Sikh Heritage Museum of Canada. The year 2014 marks the 100th anniversary of the Komagata Maru incident, when Canadian authorities turned away 376 migrants of South Asian origin aboard a Japanese steamship in Vancouver harbour. The exhibit was part of the School's Komagata Maru Week (March 10-15, 2013) activities.
- On April 27, 2014, a bronze bust of Justice George E. Carter (Osgoode '48) was unveiled in the Osgoode Library by alumnus Roy McMurtry, former Attorney General and Chief Justice of Ontario and now Chancellor of York University. The bust commemorates Justice Carter's leadership and contributions to Canadian society not only as this country's first Canadian-born black judge, but as a founding member of the Toronto Negro Veterans, a member of the Committee for the Adoption of Coloured Youngsters, a founding member of the National Black Coalition of Canada, a founding member and past president of the Toronto Negro Business and Professional Association, and a board member of the Ontario Black History Society. He also played an instrumental role in the establishment of Legal Aid Ontario.

RARE BOOKS AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

This past year we launched our new rare books blog, Legal Canadiana. Anyone with an interest in Canadian legal bibliography, legal history and rare book librarianship should take a look at the blog. We also invite you to contribute and comment if you share our passion.

The Osgoode library has been actively purchasing rare books, especially legal Canadiana, and some significant gifts in the past year have further added to our special collections.

- We recently received as a gift a copy of the 12th ed of Coke on Littleton (1738) - not especially significant or valuable in its own right, but with a fascinating provenance for us in Canada. Our blog post about this donation provides considerable detail.
- We purchased copies of the first editions of both Glanvill's Tractatus de legibus et consuetudinibus regni Angliae (the earliest treatise on English law, written in 1188 and first printed in 1554) and Bracton's De legibus et consuetudinibus Angliae (written before 1235, first printed in 1533). Both these titles are extremely rare and ours are the only copies in Canada and among only a few in North American libraries, so we are quite proud to have them. We blogged about the Glanvill acquisition here.

- We've also recently acquired an important manuscript of the Coutume de Paris with a remarkable provenance. As far as we can determine, it's the first translation of the Coutume de Paris into English (well, extracts of it, not the whole work). The translation, completed in 1841, was done by Stanley Clark Bagg, a notary and justice of the peace in Montreal, as well as the largest landowner on the island after the Sulpicians. We've had the manuscript digitized by the Internet Archive, which can be viewed here.
- With the hiring of a Rare Books Student Assistant, we were finally able to begin two long-planned projects for our special collections. First, we've started clearing up our rare books cataloguing backlog. As part of this project, we've reviewed our cataloguing practices, taking the opportunity to raise the standards for and quality of our cataloguing for rare books and introduced the use of genre headings and relator terms to address special qualities like provenance and condition. Second, we've finally started the long-planned reorganization of our rare books collections by size. (For more information, see our blog post. "Size Matters!")

ASSOCIATE DEAN RESEARCH & RESEARCH OFFICE

HIGHLIGHTS

This report showcases the Associate Dean Research and the Research Office's achievements in 2013/14. The Research Office continues to successfully implement Osgoode's Strategic Plan as it relates to research, and carries out the mandates of the ADR. Some highlights from the year include:

- Osgoode developed its relationship with several international partner institutions, through our commitment to internationalizing legal education, and enhancing our global impact through increased international engagement.
- In the past year, Osgoode established new collaborative exchange agreements with the following institutions
 - Tsinghua Law School
 - Queen Mary University
- Osgoode sponsored two new partner institutions for the Association of Transnational Law Schools (ATLAS): Queen Mary (London) and the American University in Washington College of Law (DC).
- Osgoode hosted the JD Research Colloquium and the Junior Faculty Forum.
- We successfully obtained Canadian governmental funding for two Chilean students from the Universidad de Concepcion to participate in a new student exchange program.
- Professor Poonam Puri was Associate Dean Research from July 2011 until October 2013 when she took on the role of Associate Dean; Professor François Tanguay-Renaud then held the position of ADR until July 2014. Professor Carys Craig was appointed as Associate Dean, Research & Institutional Relations commencing July 1, 2014.

RESEARCH CENTRES

HENNICK CENTRE FOR BUSINESS AND LAW

The Hennick Centre for Business and Law, a joint initiative of Osgoode Hall Law School and the Schulich School of Business, is the first Canadian centre to promote and develop joint business and legal scholarship and education. Combining the strengths of the world-class law and business schools at York University, the Hennick Centre delivers innovative programs and initiatives for students, scholars and practitioners at the intersection of law, business and public policy.

Director: Professor Edward J. Waitzer

HIGHLIGHTS

- Hennick Summer Internships: The Centre built on last year's successful launch of the summer internship program to add additional placements for 2014. The internships prepare Osgoode students for the world beyond law school by exposing them to the real-world nature of problem-solving and the client side of legal practice. Six internships were awarded in 2014: (1) FirstService Residential, (2) Mount Sinai Hospital, (3) TD Bank, (4) the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada, (5) the Ontario Securities Commission, and (6) the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health. Since its inception, over 100 students have applied to the program.
- Hennick Medal for Career Achievement: The 2013 Hennick Medal for Career Achievement was awarded to Greg Sorbara, Former Ontario MPP and Minister of Finance, at a special lecture and presentation at Osgoode Hall Law School on October 31. Sorbara was recognized for his exemplary career at the intersection of business, law and public policy, including serving for over 21 years in the Ontario Legislature. Sorbara was also recognized for his numerous leadership roles at York University and in the community in York Region. The Hennick Medal is presented annually to a distinguished leader who has earned international recognition in the business and legal communities.
- Davies Business Law Lecture: The Hennick Centre was pleased to welcome American businessman, journalist and author James McGregor to the Schulich School of Business on January 21 to deliver the 2014 Davies Lecture. Over 250 participants attended the lecture where McGregor - Chairman of APCO Worldwide (Greater China) and Former Wall Street Journal Bureau Chief (Mainland China & Taiwan) - provided insights and observations on China's business, politics and society, as discussed in his most recent book, "No Ancient Wisdom, No Followers: The Challenges of Chinese Authoritarian Capitalism." His lecture was warmly received by an audience of faculty and students, as well as members of the legal and business communities.
- Additional Events:
 - JD/MBA Conference on urban issues in law and business featuring keynote speakers David Miller, President & CEO, World Wildlife Fund Canada and 63rd Mayor of Toronto, and Michael Cooper, President & CEO, DREAM Unlimited Corp (February 28, 2014)
 - "Building Trust in the Financial System" Lecture featuring Bank of Canada Deputy Governor Timothy Lane (March 24, 2014)

THE INSTITUTE FOR FEMINIST LEGAL STUDIES (IFLS)

The Institute for Feminist Legal Studies was established at Osgoode in the early 1990s to foster feminism and law at Osgoode. The Institute aims to create a “community of interest” for feminist faculty and students at the Law School.

Director: Professor Sonia Lawrence

HIGHLIGHTS:

The Director of the Institute currently sits on the Executive of the Centre for Feminist Research, a University Organized Research Unit, and over the past year the IFLS co-sponsored a talk with the CFR. The IFLS has also collaborated or discussed possible collaborations with the Tubman Institute at York, the SocioLegal Studies Speakers Series, and a variety of Osgoode initiatives including the Colloquium in Law, Religion and Social Thought, and Osgoode’s Law, Arts, Culture initiative, among others.

The IFLS also works to support programming by student groups at Osgoode, most notably the Osgoode Feminist Collective, along with others including OUTlaws, Osgoode Black Law Students Association, the Distinguished Speakers Series Organizing Committee, and the Osgoode Law Union.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW & TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM (IP OSGOODE)

IP Osgoode is an independent and authoritative voice that fills the voids in public policy debates on IP and related technology law issues. We aim to provide balanced and objective research, offer new and unexplored viewpoints to public policy discussions which are inclusive of the opinions and interests of a broad range of IP stakeholders, and ultimately act as a facilitator for the flourishing of a knowledge-based society in Canada. In the context of a globalizing legally pluralistic landscape, IP Osgoode cultivates interdisciplinary, comparative and transnational research, collaboration, policy-thinking and practice..

Director: Professor Giuseppina D'Agostino

HIGHLIGHTS

- IP Osgoode hosted a full-day symposium entitled “User-Generated Content under Canadian Copyright Law” on October 10, 2013.
- The IP Intensive program welcomed three new placement organizations for fall 2013. Eleven students were admitted into the program for the fall 2013 term.
- The IP Osgoode Innovation Clinic is collaborating with Innovation York to supplement the services of both centres.
- The IP Osgoode Innovation Clinic is in its third year of operation. For the 2013-14 academic term, the Clinic serviced 28 clients. Eleven Osgoode students were recruited as Clinic Fellows and two Osgoode students were recruited as Clinic Coordinators.
- Together with the Office of Research & Institutional Relations, IP Osgoode co-sponsored Professor Victor Nabhan as a Genest visiting scholar for the fall 2013 term.
- IP Osgoode’s blog, IPilogue (www.iposgoode.ca), was runner-up for a Canadian Law Blog award under the legal technology category.
- To date, IPilogue has posted 1,827 blogs and 1,278 comments. For the 2013-14 academic term, 15 law students (11 from Osgoode) were recruited as IPilogue contributing editors.

RESEARCH EVENTS AND VISITORS

- User-Generated Content under Canadian Copyright Law Symposium (October 10, 2013)
This full day symposium focused on the legal and commercial aspects of user-generated content. Topics for discussion included an analysis of the UGC exception under Canadian copyright law, the interaction of the UGC exception with fair dealing, specific legal aspects of fan fiction and appropriation art, and whether the UGC exception is in conformity with international treaty standards.
- IP Osgoode Speaker Series - “Advocacy in IP Litigation in the Supreme Court of Canada” by Justice Marshall Rothstein (November 25, 2013)
Justice Rothstein shared his thoughts on appellate advocacy before the Supreme Court of Canada and provided a very interesting glimpse into the inner workings of the Court.
The New Unitary European Patent: What You Need to Know (December 2, 2013)
A lunch seminar co-hosted by Miller Thomson LLP and IP Osgoode

JACK & MAE NATHANSON CENTRE ON TRANSNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS, CRIME AND SECURITY

The Nathanson Centre seeks to make a cross-disciplinary contribution to the study of the relationships among crime, human rights, and security in the context of transnational phenomena and as informed by normative and theoretical perspectives. The Centre focuses on research and knowledge-generation activities that contribute both to fundamental scholarship and/or public policy debates

Director: Professor François Tanguay-Renaud

HIGHLIGHTS

The Centre was pleased to welcome Dr. Massimo Renzo from the University of Warwick as a visitor. It held an international conference “Wrongs Across Borders” that featured renowned speakers Arash Abizadeh (McGill), Daniel Butt (Oxford), Simon Caney (Oxford), Tom Christiano (Arizona), Helen Frowe (Stockholm), Adil Haque (Rutgers), Catriona McKinnon (Reading), Miriam Ronzoni (Manchester), and Victor Tadros (Warwick), with comments from a no less impressive list of Nathanson researchers and others. The centre also welcomed 17 speakers for various seminars and workshops. We had three postdocs in residence, as well as six Nathanson graduate fellows that we supported.

In January, the Centre underwent successfully its re-chartering process, ensuring the pursuit of its mandate for at least the next five years.

MEDIA INNOVATION AND CREATIVITY LAB (M!C)

The Media Innovation and Creativity Lab is a space for technology and design that is located at Osgoode Hall Law School. This multi-purpose space is home to both M!C and fellows from the Cities Urban Research Lab project. The space is designed to allow student media access, professional media creation, and act as a collaborative design space.

Director: Kelly Parke

HIGHLIGHTS

This past year M!C has produced several notable collaborative media projects:

- PhD candidates Bart Danko and Areta Lloyd have both produced documentaries using the M!C cameras and editing systems. Bart's project was nominated for a People's Choice award in the Ontario University-wide Three-Minute Thesis (3MT) Competition.
- PhD student Julia Janes employed the lab to produce a series of multi-camera research videos that will be used to form the basis of her doctoral thesis. Julia's project was a collaborative production between Osgoode Hall Law School and the Faculty of Graduate Studies.
- PhD student Sheila Jennings used the M!C facilities to present her legal research live to an interactive audience of Canadian and American scholars.
- M!C was retained to create the technical documents for the basis of a Canadian Foundation for Innovation (CFI) grant application for the Winkler Institute for Dispute Resolution at Osgoode. The design was a unique adaptation of several technologies in the media space. M!C is also currently consulting with several faculty members on a variety of technology design applications to develop and enhance the e-learning experience.
- M!C is currently producing a series of dramatic videos for the Office of Student Services at Osgoode, as a part of the Ontario Law Student Mental Health Initiative. These videos will be scenarios used to explore the issues facing law students with mental health concerns.
- The lab also successfully completed videos for Schulich School of Business, Osgoode's inaugural Artist in Residence project, and a tribute to the late Professor Michael Mandel.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES (ITS)

HIGHLIGHTS

- Completed development of the MyJD application and launched on Aug 27, 2014. This application is specifically designed to provide Osgoode students with all of the degree tracking information that they will require through an easily accessible web interface. This integrated solution will greatly reduce the number of staff-student interactions required to access basic information. The information is presented to students in a simplistic and easy to navigate view.
- Moodle is a Learning Management Environment, which consists of over 70 million users and 7 million courses world-wide. All of our Quickr course websites were migrated to Moodle, which will improve the dissemination of lecture materials as well as provide a rich collaborative environment for students.
- Osgoode ITS began the migration of key back-end server infrastructure over to central York to manage our key servers and network components. This will increase reliability of the applications and websites that are stored on these servers. This also helps us to leverage shared resources with central UIT to reduce operational costs.
- Further enhanced our ongoing partnership with ITC (York) to provide support for classroom technologies.
- Osgoode ITS has expanded the video conferencing capabilities—used for remote presenters at research conferences, guest speakers for classes and PhD defences – by equipping two additional rooms for video conferencing, bringing the total to 9 rooms + 1 mobile cart.
- Increased the loaner laptop pool to 25 multi-purpose laptops. The use will be divided between loaners for students / faculty / staff and lab exam laptops.
- Increased the dedicated allocation for accommodated exam laptops to 10. These laptops are essential to facilitate the writing of electronic exams for students requiring accommodation. Used year- round, during regular exam period as well as for supplementary/deferred exams.
- There were a total of 17 video conference events this year, up from 12 last year. These events included PhD defences, guest speakers, research conferences, etc.
- Better and more efficient use of computing space. The Lab in Room 2011 has been re-configured for 13 laptops instead of 25 and power outlet access has been expanded due to student demand to allow students to use their own laptops
- Grad carrels have had the network ports converted to YorkNet to allow Graduate students to use their own devices with a more reliable connection as of July 2014.
- In the Computing Commons Lab, the Microfiche and Scanner workstations have been upgraded to replace aging hardware.
- Configured a high-speed, multifunction printer for student use in the library, which will allow for more reliable and quicker printing.
- Continued to support AODA initiatives - including adaptive software, course websites that contain AODA podcasts as well as the Dean's annual webcast. All of Osgoode's web content is within AODA compliance as of January 1, 2014.
- The Helpdesk resolved approximately 9,000 service tickets within the last year - over 36 service tickets per day. The previous year, approximately 10,000 service tickets were resolved. This 11.1% decrease in the amount of services tickets could be attributed to efficiency improvement with process and procedures that have been put in place, including providing more comprehensive self-serve information on the Osgoode ITS website

EXTERNAL RELATIONS & COMMUNICATIONS

HIGHLIGHTS

- This year marked the 20th anniversary of the Intensive Program in Aboriginal Lands, Resources & Government. ERC organized a celebration with alumni, students, faculty and former faculty members at the Indigenous Bar Association Conference.
- Together with The Honourable Justice Harry LaForme '77, Osgoode hosted a reception in honour of Gitksan artist Ya'Ya Heit who has been commissioned by the Law School to create a pair of carvings for Gowlings Hall.
- Osgoode's South Asian Law Students' Association (SALSA) led a fundraising campaign to recognize the contributions of The Honourable Justice Russell Juriansz '72. They raised in excess of $50,000, thanks in large part to the generous contribution from Blake Cassels & Graydon LLP that created two funds - The Honourable Russell Juriansz '72 Bursary Fund and the Blakes/Juriansz Inclusivity Fund. Both will help promote inclusivity, equity and accessibility at Osgoode.
- The Osgoode Alumni Association, under the leadership of The Honourable Denise Bellamy '78, revised its Constitution.
- The Winkler Institute for Dispute Resolution was formally launched in December 2013 at an event at Osgoode Hall. This was the result of a highly successful fundraising campaign that brought in well over $2 million - over $1 million in donations from more than 40 law firms and individuals, and a matching contribution of $1 million from York University.
- Unveiled a bust of The Honourable George Carter '48, the first Canadian-born black judge, which brought together students, alumni and prominent members of the community.
- An ethnic media campaign was conducted in the fall of 2013 to raise awareness of Osgoode's commitment to inclusivity and diversity. The ads, featuring recent JD graduates, included 24 insertions between September 27 and November 21 in South Asian, black and aboriginal newspapers and magazines, and on one radio station.
- A Media Skills Workshop - Beast or Boost: The Ins and Outs of Working with the Media - with Kirk Makin, Toronto writer and former justice reporter for the Globe and Mail, and Joanne Rider, chief spokesperson and director of media relations for York University, was held for faculty and CPM staff on March 5, 2014. The workshop was well-attended and well-received.
- A video of Osgoode's inaugural Artist in Residence Program was created with the assistance of a two-person film crew from University Information Technology (UIT). The video, which was shot in a half-day on March 28 at the School, involved interviews with artist Cindy Blažević, three students and the Dean.

Note: The Flex Fund is included in this budget.

The 2013-14 budget supported the core teaching, learning and research mission of the Law School. As in the past two years, surplus funds have been set aside in the Flex Fund to advance the School's strategic objectives and funds were expended in an effort to upgrade the School's facilities and equipment, and enhance its on-line presence.

In 2013-14, Osgoode ended the fiscal year with an in-year surplus. Osgoode Professional Development (OPD) contributed $1.7M and Osgoode operating funds (net Flex Fund transactions) contributed $977K towards the surplus. With this surplus, Osgoode continues to pay down its historical negative carry forward according to schedule ($340K/year) and transfer the remaining funds into the Flex Fund. The Flex Fund was established to capture the School in-year surplus in order to build a contingency fund and support the School's strategic initiatives. The Flex Fund has been used to support many of the School's strategic objectives, including:

- Accessibility
- Experiential Education
- Research Intensification
- Digital Education

The $2.7M surplus from 2013-14 will be directed as follows:

- $340K will be applied to reduce the negative carry forward;
- $1.2M will be added to the existing contingency fund; and
- $1.2M will be directed to strategic initiatives, including projects supporting Osgoode's 125th Anniversary.

In 2013-14, investments made in facilities, equipment and the website include:

- Renovating and refurnishing a graduate student classroom;
- Re-equipping our student lab with new computers;
- Purchasing a pool of laptop computers to loan to graduate students on a short-term basis;
- Purchasing new video conferencing equipment; and
- A full information architecture redesign of the School's website.

Moving forward, the 2014-15 budget anticipates another in-year surplus. With the inclusion of the Flex Fund, the overall financial position of the School is expected to remain positive in the coming year.

APPENDIX : MOOTS AND SKILLS 2013-14

Mooting and skills simulation competitions have continued to grow in interest and availability at Osgoode. One of the most common enquiries I receive from students is with respect to mootng. Although mootng is one of the most established traditions at law school, it has enjoyed renewed and widened interest with the embrace of skills-based learning and experiential education.

This year, Osgoode's mootng program became a centrepiece of our range of experiential learning opportunities. For the competitive appellate moot teams, the appellate advocacy workshop provided a thorough theoretical grounding in appellate skills - legal research, drafting and oral advocacy. It then included an experiential component - developing an argument and performing it, under the supervision of a lawyer (coach). Finally, it included, for the first time, a reflective component. Students who completed all three components received their praxicum credit. Appended to this Memorandum is a copy of instructions for those who were given permission to do the reflection in writing. The questions contained in the instruction formed the basis of the three-hour, in-class session, attended by over 20 students. Justice Janet Simmons of the Court of Appeal for Ontario was a significant contributor to the workshop which greatly enhanced the students' experience.

A further development that occurred over the last year is the unveiling of the Window Champions on the far west side of the main floor atrium. Hanging from the ceiling are the victory banners from the 2012-13 mootng year. Those banners will be retired to one of two spaces: the moot courtroom for mootng banners, and the Helliwell Centre for skills competitions banners. The 2013-14 championship banners will be unfurled in the fall in the Window of Champions.

To that end, at the competitive level, Osgoode teams achieved great success over the course of the 2013-2014 academic year in various moot and lawyering skills competitions. Osgoode students earned individual commendations for stellar performances, and made terrific team efforts, winning championship titles in four of the 20 competitions that Osgoode students participated in for credit.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Below is a summary of Osgoode's mootng achievements over the past year. Attached to this Memorandum is a comprehensive chart of competitions, team members, coaches and results.

I TRADITIONAL MOOT COURT

This year, Osgoode moot teams won two of the major competitions:

1. Laskin Memorial Moot (first time Osgoode wins this cup in 29 years)
2. Julius Alexander Isaac Diversity Moot (taking both first and second place)

This was the first time in the 29-year history of the Laskin Moot that Osgoode has been victorious. The competition is a prestigious national administrative law moot, and is the country's only truly bilingual moot, which has proven to be a challenge for Osgoode teams in the past. Over the last two years, through active scouting of transfer and exchange students, outreach to the francophone student population, and adjustments in the timing of mootng tryouts, we have invested in remedying the "problem" of the French oralist position in the Laskin moot. This year's victory both vindicates those efforts, but also demonstrates what tremendous results Osgoode students can achieve through team work. In addition to claiming the Laskin title, additional awards included: First Place Pair (Maciej Lipinski and Jonathan Silver); Second Place Oralist overall (Lipinski), Fourth Place Oralist overall (Silver), as well as Fourth Place combined factums.

This year's entry into the Diversity Moot came after a few years' hiatus. In the interim, the competition has improved and Osgoode secured Virginia Nelder and Roger Love of the African Canadian Legal Clinic to act as coaches. This proved a successful formula, as the team performed brilliantly and the coaches reported a thrilling experience.

The appellant team of Busayo Ayodele and Richard Lanns finished in first place; the respondent team of Jeff Hernaez and Zorn Pink finished in second place, and also won Best Factum. Busayo Ayodele claimed the top oralist award of the competition.

II LAWYERING SIMULATION COMPETITIONS

Osgoode teams also performed impressively in lawyering simulation competitions, achieving top results in the following competitions two years in a row:

1. Canadian Client Consultation Competition
2. Ontario Trial Lawyers Association Cup

Robin Nobleman and Anna Leggett of Osgoode placed first in the 2014 Canadian Client Consultation Competition and moved on to compete in Puerto Rico where they represented Osgoode outstandingly.

The Osgoode team of Daniel Hamson and Alexander Payne won the 2014 Ontario Trial Lawyers Association (OTLA) Cup held in London, Ontario the weekend of March 1 and 2, 2014. In addition, Payne won Best Advocate and Hamson won Best Closing Argument. Osgoode alumni Ryan Breedon and Monique Jilesen of Lenczner Slaght Royce Smith Griffin LLP coached the team. This year's trial competition was presided over by the Honourable Mr. Justice Andrew Goodman.

Achievements of first-year students, Nick Arruda and Alicia Landry, were also impressive. They competed in the Torys moot (non-credit), having successfully won the first-year required mooting competition in their Legal Process class. Nick Arruda performed especially well in winning the Torys moot overall.

III NEW THIS YEAR AND CHANGES FOR NEXT YEAR

This year, Osgoode fielded a team to compete in the new Winkler Class Actions Moot on a non-credit basis. The competition was a success and has been added to the roster of for-credit moots this upcoming year.

Osgoode will not be fielding teams in the Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot or the Niagara International Moot in the 2014-2015 academic year.

Osgoode will be fielding teams in the Talmudic Law Moot for the first time. This competition focuses on substantive Jewish personal law, and litigation before the Beth Din religious tribunals.

APPENDIX - MOOTING REFLECTION PAPER

1. Introduction:

The 5-page (double spaced, 12-point font, 1" margins) paper which you have decided to write is part of satisfying the Osgoode praxicum requirement. You should only be availing yourself of the writing option if you have sought permission from the Mooting Director for an exemption from the in-class option. The purpose of the reflection exercise is to provide you with an opportunity to reflect on your mooting experience in a way that links what you learned about the theory of advocacy in the appellate advocacy workshop to what you experienced while working with your team and coaches in preparing for, and participating in, the moot competition.

2. Preparation:

The following list of questions may provide you with some focus in writing your paper.

What was the most useful thing from the Workshop that assisted you with your written and oral preparation for the moot?

Based on your experience, what are the major differences between writing an essay for school and writing a factum for a court?

Justice John Laskin says that point-first speaking is even more important than point-first writing. What does he mean? Based on your experience, do you agree? Why?

Team work is a major part of appellate advocacy in the real world, though it's a very small part of the law school experience. Based on your mooting experience, what was the most valuable thing about team work? What was the most challenging thing about team work?

The Chief Justice of Ontario Advisory Committee on Professionalism Working Group Committee has defined the elements of professionalism as encompassing the following building blocks: "scholarship, integrity, honour, leadership, independence, pride, spirit, collegiality, service and balanced commercialism." Consider which of these values you saw in action or felt a part of during your mooting experience.
